Why Launch

YOUR Own Brand Skincare

Online discounters and skincare manufacturers have moved aggressively into skincare over the last decade. Many mainstream manufacturers use you, the professional, as a route to market to introduce THEIR products to YOUR patients. You know your patients' skin better than anyone and you know the right ingredients to treat them.
So why build someone else's brand when you could be building your own?

Increase Revenue & Growth

Increase business revenue or gain additional income by selling the products your clients need.

Improved Patient Retention

Stand out from your competitors and offer products that your patients cannot get elsewhere. Your patients trust you with their skincare needs so they will trust your products too – they won't be able to find your brand at a lower price elsewhere.

Powerful Marketing Tool

Increase patient recruitment through local media coverage, social media activity and word-of-mouth recommendations.

Protected Margins

Pricing is set by you in relation to your brand's value. This means better profit margins compared to selling mainstream manufacturers' brands or investing in manufacturing your own products.

Easy Upsell

Make more profit from each patient transaction by selling products that complement your treatments. Easily upsell your own products to patients who value your experience and knowledge of their skin.

About us

Since 2014, 5 Squirrels have helped skincare professionals to launch their own brand skincare products and take back control of their business. We have developed an award-winning portfolio of product formulations containing highly concentrated active ingredients to improve the skin’s overall health and appearance. We offer a one-stop-shop that makes the whole process simple so you can get on with what you do best - looking after your clients' skin.

- Affordable: Products start from £7.95.
- Fast: Our product formulations are already tested and approved.
- You can have your own brand products on the shelf in less than six weeks!

Our Clients Love Us

"I consider myself fortunate to have found 5 Squirrels and Gary Conroy. Over the past several years, Gary and his team of formulators and designers have helped and guided me with new formulations for my product line and helped me create clean and modern artwork for all the packaging. I now have 6 bespoke products in my skincare range with another 3 in development. These products have been adopted by international distributors who promote my range internationally adding another income stream to my business. It is always a pleasure to work with the 5 Squirrels team."

Esther Fieldgrass

Founder of EF Medispa

"It was very important to me to have my own range of products to complement the non-surgical cosmetic treatments I offer in my clinic in Knightsbridge. We offer the highest quality treatments, and we wanted a skincare range with the best ingredients. I was happy to work with 5 Squirrels because I knew their products would be of an excellent standard. They're always coming up with the latest cutting-edge products and my skincare range has grown over the years. My business has significantly grown since launching my own range. I now have an extensive range of products and my patients love them. I very much like that I am in control of my own brand and no-one else can sell it online."

Dr Rita Rakus

Dr Rita Rakus Skincare

"We have been blown away by the support we have received from 5 Squirrels, both in terms of the design and promotional tools, but also the ongoing sales and marketing support. Our staff and patients love the products and sales have gone through the roof!"

Frances Turner Traill

Clinical Director, FTT Skin Clinics

"My patients were spending an awful lot of money on high street products that didn't have the essential ingredients, so we were very keen to develop our own product range. Working with 5 Squirrels was a very enjoyable and collaborative process, and we've always had incredible support from the team. Our patients love the products, and they keep coming back for more. Working with 5 Squirrels was one of the best business decisions we've ever made."

Dr Sally-Ann Dolan

SDS Rejuvenate Skincare

"We wanted to sell a brand that patients could not buy elsewhere – either at competitor clinics or online when they make repeat purchases. Having our own brand increases sales retention. We also realised that having our own branded skincare adds to the kudos and credibility of the clinic, and patients are impressed by this."
